

Flexible Rent Control Bill Ready For Senate

States Would Be Allowed To Scrap Curb

Washington, March 17—(AP)—A flexible rent control extension bill was cleared for Senate action today as the banking committee voted to continue the curbs 12 to 15 months and to raise some ceilings.

The measure also would give each state the choice of:

1. Scrapping federal controls whenever its legislature so decided.
2. Or taking over administration of the controls within its borders whenever the governor certified to Washington that the state has an adequate rent law on its books.

Try To Beat Deadline

With the present rent law due to expire in two weeks, chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) said he hopes the Senate can begin debate on the committee measure tomorrow to speed congressional action before the March 31 deadline.

But rent controls — and other legislation — had to await settlement of the filibuster battle.

The House already has approved a 15 months extension, with a "home rule" provision which would permit state, county or municipal governments to drop federal controls in their area by adoption of a resolution to that effect.

Neither measure, however, is for as long or as tough as the administration wanted. It asked a two-year extension backed by wartime penalty provisions. The old OPA enforcement rules are in the Senate committee's bill, but were left out of the House measure.

Explains Extension

Maybank gave the explanation of the 12 to 15 months extension; the committee filed March 21, 1950 for ending federal controls, but stipulated that in the following three months price ceilings and eviction restrictions would remain, if a tenant so requested. Any rental dwellings vacated in the extra three months period would be decontrolled at once.

The Senate group also adopted a provision for some rent increases as a substitute for the House plan to assure landlords a "reasonable return on a reasonable" value of their property. Federal officials had objected to the latter idea as being too difficult to administer.

Under the Senate committee's bill, the present rule which allows a 15 per cent increase if both tenant and landlord agree would be scrapped. Instead, the landlord would be permitted to raise his rents 5 per cent on October 1, and another 5 per cent on April 1, 1950.

However, in no case could the tenant's rent be boosted more than 15 per cent above what was charged for the dwelling on June 30, 1947.

In other words, if a tenant's rent had been raised 15 per cent under the present law's provision which permits such a boost in exchange for a lease barring additional increases, no additional increases could be assessed under the proposed new law.

Mexicans Disclose Recovery Of U235 Stolen From U.S.

Mexico City, March 17—(AP)—The Mexican secret police disclosed today the recovery of a small cylinder of uranium which they said must have been stolen from a U. S. atomic laboratory.

But the police said the full story was a secret of the United States government.

The police said the cylinder was found on a Mexican last November. Another Mexican with him was listed as having died from "uranium rays."

Police quoted Manuel Sandoval Vallarta, head of Mexico's atomic committee, as saying the cylinder contained pure uranium 235—the material used to make the atom bomb—and was obtainable only in the United States. Sandoval Vallarta, a former member of the U. N. Atomic Energy commission, is now in the United States.

If Sandoval Vallarta's description is correct and the theft of pure uranium 235 confirmed, it would seem to be evidence of a serious atomic leak, an expert said. The pure uranium 235 is not permitted to get into any hands except American bomb makers and a very few men who study atomic power.

SCOUTS TO DISTRIBUTE HOSPITAL DRIVE POSTERS

Local Boy Scouts will lend a hand in the Passavant hospital fund drive by distributing campaign posters today, District Chairman Edward D. Bargery said Thursday.

All Scouts are requested to report at the office in the Gibson building at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Wabash Will Begin Lay Off Of Non-Operators

St. Louis, March 17—(AP)—The Wabash railroad will start laying off its 9,000 non-operating employees tomorrow unless a strike by some 3,000 operating employees is settled. A few already have been laid off.

All Wabash trains, passenger and freight, had been stalled for three days, and there was no indication of a back-to-work arrangement.

Vice President George H. Sido of the railroad said only a skeleton force will be retained by Monday unless there is a settlement.

The strike also threatened to curtail some industries dependent on the Wabash, for supplies. The Railway Mail Service rented a fleet of trucks to serve towns depending on the railroad for mail service.

A union spokesman said he did not believe members of the railroad's four operating brotherhoods will return to work simply on the strength of an order signed by President Truman Tuesday. The president's order called for a 60-day postponement of the strike while a fact-finding board looks into the dispute.

Mr. Truman tonight named Justice R. M. McDonough of the Utah supreme court to head the three-member emergency board. Appointed to serve with him were Curtis G. Shake, former member of the Indiana supreme court, and John

Rep. J. Pat O'Hara Declares St. Pat Was Republican

Washington, March 17—(AP)—Faith, and on such a day as this, isn't it interesting to learn that the blessed St. Pat was a Republican?

That's what the House was told today during its annual Shamrock-laden tribute to those who came from the Emerald Isle. And since an Irishman said it, it must be true.

Up got Rep. Joseph Patrick O'Hara (R-Minn.), bald and round as a cartoon Irishman, to announce: "It's a great day for the Irish. And after considerable research I am happy to say I have learned that St. Patrick was a Republican."

Then O'Hara read off the list of the Irish in the House—the McCarrthys, the McCormells, the McCormacks, the McCullochs, the McGrahys, the McGulches, the McGweeneys, the OBriens, the O'Haras, the O'Neills, the O'Sullivan and the O'Tooles.

"We include them all," said O'Hara, "from the O'Abbits to the O'Zablocks."

(Rep. Abbit (D-Va.) leads the House alphabet list, Rep. Zablocki (D-Wis.) brings up the rear.)

Main Defendant In Conspiracy Trial To Defend Himself

New York, March 17—(AP)—The top-ranking defendant in the conspiracy trial of 11 U. S. Communist leaders was given permission to conduct his own defense today as the way was cleared to begin the actual trial Monday.

Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party, was authorized by Judge Harold R. Medina to act as his own attorney.

Medina, however, warned Dennis "you are taking a chance here" and said "you are not competent to understand certain legal matters."

Four women were chosen as alternate jurors to serve with the trial jury of seven women and five men whose selection was completed yesterday.

The Communists are charged with conspiring to advocate forcible overthrow of the U. S. government.

Big Turtle Hunt Bogs Down Again

Churubusco, Ind., March 17—(AP)—The turtle hunt at Fuiks lake bogged down again today.

Woodrow Rigby of Fort Wayne, Ind., had volunteered to descend into the cold depths of Fuiks lake in a diving suit and snare the huge turtle which Farmer Gale Harris says he has seen.

A diving suit was ordered from Chicago, but the package contained only a helmet when it arrived today. Rigby balked at going down into the cold water in just a helmet.

Harris says the turtle is as big as a dining room table. It slipped out of a steel barrel trap on two occasions, Harris said.

Ten-acre Fuiks lake is on the Harris property.

BAN SEGREGATION

Hartford, Conn., March 17—(AP)—Racial segregation in Connecticut's national guard is prohibited under a new law signed by Gov. Chester Bowles.

Catholic Church At Capital Installs Bishop O'Connor

Springfield, Ill., March 17—(AP)—A solemn ritual of the Roman Catholic church today installed Bishop William Aloysius O'Connor as head of the Springfield diocese.

Twelve archbishops, with hundreds of priests, nuns and law members, filled the Immaculate Conception cathedral for the two-hour services. State and city officials also were present.

Samuel Cardinal Stritch, presiding at the formal installation, handed Bishop O'Connor the gold staff symbolizing the beginning of his episcopal reign over 104,000 Catholics.

A fanfare of trumpets sounded when the new bishop entered the cathedral, and again as he occupied the red-draped throne in the sanctuary for the first time.

The all male choir sang the glorious "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus" (Behold The Great Priest.)

NLRB Rows Over What Violations It Can Rule On

Washington, March 17—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board rowed today over whether the courts or its own general counsel can rule on what Taft-Hartley law violations the board should handle.

"This is the basis of the dispute: 1. The board issued a decision that it will rule for itself whether the law applies to a company—even though a federal court found earlier that the law didn't apply to the firm.

2. A top aide of General Counsel Robert N. Denham argued at a board hearing that Denham alone can decide the violation cases the board may consider.

For a case to go to the NLRB an employer's business must affect interstate commerce. But there has been a wide difference of opinion between Denham and the board over how much commerce must be affected before the NLRB can assert jurisdiction.

The board contends a great many potential cases should be ignored because of their small effect on commerce and because they would flood its docket.

Urges U.S. Provide Illinois With More Vet Hospital Beds

Washington, March 17—(AP)—Illinois congressmen, veterans groups and state officials today urged a Senate committee to provide more veterans hospital beds in their state.

Specific requests were made that the proposed Decatur veterans hospital and the 500 beds eliminated from the Chicago Medical Center by a presidential order in January be restored to the Veterans Administration construction program.

Senators Douglas and Lucas, Democrats, and six Illinois congressmen led by Rep. McMillen (R) supported the full hospital construction program urged by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Douglas told the public welfare subcommittee that Illinois had an overall hospital bed deficiency of 17,000 beds.

Rome, March 17—(AP)—Bloodshed marked communist-led demonstrations today against the Italian government's plan to join the North Atlantic alliance.

Diplomatic sources in Copenhagen said the Danish parliament is expected to give final endorsement next Wednesday to Denmark's participation.

Southern Demos, GOP Pass Compromise To Filibuster

Murder Of Mrs. H. H. Underwood In Korea Blamed On Commies

Seoul, Korea, Friday, March 18—(AP)—Police today blamed Korean communists for the slaying of Mrs. Horace H. Underwood, 66, wife of a prominent U. S. educator and missionary in Korea.

One official called it a "mistake" killing.

Police Chief Kim Tai Sun said three suspects were under arrest. Mrs. Underwood was shot to death yesterday by two hooded gunmen, who forced their way into her home during a tea party.

Police and U. S. Army investigators had been puzzled for a motive. Dr. Underwood, although an adviser to the former American military government, had taken no part in politics. His wife was popular with Koreans.

Kim told the Associated Press he thought he had found a motive. He said he was convinced the slayers were communists.

"I believe they intended to kill someone else," he said, "probably Mrs. Mo."

Sentence Killer Of 12-Year-Old To Life In Prison

Philadelphia, March 17—(AP)—A frightened, nail-chewing youth of 17 was sentenced to life imprisonment today for the "perverted sexual lust" killing of a 12-year-old boy.

"I'm scared," Seymour Levin whined before his attorney a moment before sentence was pronounced.

Levin pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. Three judges who heard testimony two weeks ago, fixed his guilt at first degree murder.

They said that Levin "enticed" into his home 12-year-old Ellis Simons and there committed an act of perverted sexual lust.

Levin, who was the only defense witness, denied sex played any part in the killing. He said he "blacked out" and couldn't remember what happened after he and the Simons boy argued about a chemistry set.

Young Simons was slain Jan. 8. He was mutilated and nearly nude body, bearing more than 50 knife and scissors wounds, was found the following day behind the Levin garage.

Report Chinese Reds Preparing To Cross Yangtze

Nanking, March 17—(AP)—The Chinese communists were reported today hastening preparations to cross the Yangtze river and stirring up new disorders deep in South China.

Teng Wen-Yi, government military spokesman, told a news conference the communist Gen. Lin Piao had moved 100,000 of his crack Manchurian troops south to the vicinity of Suhow, 180 air miles north of Nanking.

The government withdrew a similar statement earlier in the week, saying reported arrival of Manchurian troops had been found to be merely some small war parties repairing the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

Neutral observers said this time their admittedly sketchy information tended to confirm Teng's statement. They said four of Lin Piao's columns had been tentatively identified in the Suhow region. This would be a total strength of 60,000 to 75,000.

Depression Scare Makes Stock Price Drop In London

London, March 17—(AP)—Fear that a depression may be approaching here and in America—appears to be a strong factor behind a prolonged drop in London stock prices.

Both Sir Stafford Cripps, the nation's economic boss, and wary investors on the stock exchange have weather eyes cocked on Wall Street and the condition of the American economy.

Sir Stafford, at an American news conference this week, declined to say he expects a recession in the United States. Perhaps by spring, he said, we can tell whether lower prices and other changes in American business represent a continuing trend or just something temporary.

The London Financial Times, a paper which reflects and sometimes shapes the thought of British investors, asked editorially more than a month ago:

"Is America now to be afflicted by all the horrors of a business depression?"

'Run' On Retail Supplies Of Coal Created By Strike

Pittsburgh, March 17—(AP)—Householders fearful of being caught with empty coal bins during the current mine work stoppage today created a "run" on retail stocks.

This was especially true in the eastern Pennsylvania anthracite region.

A coal dealers' spokesman in Pittsburgh said continued cold weather could whittle down stored above-ground supplies faster than had been expected. When the work stoppage of some 466,300 hard and soft coal miners started Monday, the nation had 70,000,000 tons of mined coal—a normal 45 days supply.

The miners were ordered out Monday east of the Mississippi by UMW President John L. Lewis. He said he wished to pay tribute to dead and injured miners and to protest appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

APPOINTS ASSISTANT EDUCATION DIRECTOR

Springfield, Ill., March 17—(AP)—Appointment of Sidney R. Olsen of Chicago as assistant director of the state registration and education department was announced today by Governor Stevenson.

Noble J. Puffer, department director, said Olsen will head the Chicago office and will direct the enforcement of the licensing regulations for the various trades and professions.

Autos Cause Many Less Deaths Than Cancer In Chicago

Chicago, March 17—(AP)—The cancer death rate in Chicago was 14 times greater than that from automobile accidents in 1948, the American Cancer Society reported today.

Sherman Sexton, Illinois division fund campaign chairman for the society said 5,983 persons died in the city of cancer last year compared with a total of 414 traffic fatalities.

Sexton said that 91 per cent of cancer deaths in Illinois occur in persons over 45 years old.

OAT PRICE SUPPORTED AT 70% PARITY

Washington, March 17—(AP)—The Agriculture department announced today that it will support growers' prices of 1949 crop oats at 70 per cent of the parity price as of April 15.

Likewise, it will support prices of barley and rye at 72 per cent of their April 15 parity prices.

The percentage-of-parity support rates for oats and rye are the same as last year, but the percentage for barley is down from 75 per cent.

Bread and cake should never be kept in the same box. Air the containers once a week, preferably in the sun.

Coalition Defeats Trumanites

Washington, March 17—(AP)—A coalition rolled over Truman Democrats tonight to write into the Senate's rules a compromise anti-filibuster provision.

The vote was 63 to 23.

Southern Democrats combined with a majority of the Republicans and some western Democrats to force adoption of the compromise peace formula that ended a great filibuster battle. Several attempted amendments were slapped down.

Under the compromise 64 of the 96 Senators can limit debate on the rules, which would be subject to no gag.

Opposed By Civil Righters

It was bitterly opposed by Civil Rights Advocates. Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, called the action a surrender to Dixie lawmakers and said Civil Rights legislation hasn't a "Chinaman's chance" under the new rule.

But Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, contended the compromise would pave the way for enactment of anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and other bills, since its terms members can halt debate on motions to take up bills and on other parliamentary moves.

Thirty-four Republicans joined with 29 Democrats in opposing it. Ends 15-Day Filibuster

The Truman camp wanted a rules change providing that a simple two-thirds majority of those voting could curb any debate, but southern filibusters 15 days against this.

The first major amendment to be defeated tonight was offered by Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.) and Saltontall (R-Mass.). They proposed that two-thirds of those voting be empowered to gag debate at all times, except on rules changes. In the latter case it would require 64 of the 96.

The vote against this amendment was 57 to 29.

Next, the senate battled down, 69 to 17, a proposal of senator Myers (D-Pa.), assistant majority floor leader. It would have provided for debate to be cut off by a vote of a "constitutional" majority—49 of the 96 senators.

Clearing the way for the climactic vote, the senate then rejected 80 to 7, an amendment by Senator Morse (R-Ore.) to provide for debate limitation by a simple majority of those voting.

Says Major Public Projects Should Go To Interior Dept.

Washington, March 17—(AP)—Congress should hand over to the Interior department all major public works projects, the Hoover commission said today. But it split wide open over its report.

Calling for a vast expansion of the agency, the commission declared reorganization is a "complete necessity." It proposed to switch to interior:

"The army engineers' huge civilian program on rivers and harbors, (2) the Federal Works agency's public building construction and community services, (3) hospital buildings for veterans and the armed services, and (4) building of civilian airports for a proposed bureau of civil aviation of the Commerce department."

The 12-man commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, is making a bipartisan survey of government looking for ways to improve and save its reports to congress are about finished.

There were many different views. A three-man minority, headed by the commission's vice chairman, Secretary of State Dean Acheson, wanted to set up a new "department of natural resources."

SEEK OWNERS OF 700 VET BONUS CHECKS

Springfield, Ill., March 17—(AP)—Illinois veterans organizations are helping locate 700 World War Two veterans whose state bonus checks were returned by postal authorities. State Auditor Benjamin O. Cooper said the checks belong to veterans who filed their claims from one address and subsequently moved without giving notification of the change.

Cooper said the checks range from $50 to $900 and some date to December, 1947.

THE DISPERSAL OF INDUSTRY

The dispersion of industry is in full swing. Automobile, electrical machinery, farm equipment, textile, chemical and metal producing industries are leading the field in moving to smaller communities.

There are two reasons for this exodus from the metropolitan and coast cities:

1. As protection against the damages of any future war.
2. Industry is finding it more economical to disperse its manufacturing plants.

A third benefit could be added. Workers find life more pleasant and fuller in the smaller communities as compared with the big cities.

The New York Times recognized the trend editorially. It said recently:

"... American industry has been carrying out, for some time a program of plant dispersal that extends from coast to coast. . . . Whatever the motives, the whole country is going to benefit from these changes. . . . A major change is taking place in the country's industrial life, a change that can have far-reaching effects on our whole social fabric."

That change has been visible for some time. It is a change that spells opportunity for the smaller communities. America is beginning to turn away from the huge city as an undesirable way of life. Young people are beginning to look closer home for opportunity.

Something of a national trend in dispersal of population within even moderate sized cities is under way. People are seeking to get "one foot on the land." It isn't so much a desire to become full fledged farmers. It is not a threat to agriculture at all. It is a movement to create individual security through individual effort. That is all to the good. It is far better than any scheme of paternalistic governmental security.

RECRUITING TEACHERS

(From The New York Times)

There is little reason to wonder that our young people have been turning away from a teaching career in droves. Nobody seems to have given a thought to trying to "sell" teaching as a career for the college graduate. All the emphasis has, instead, been on the negative. If a store, or a manufacturer, or an advertising agency tried to sell goods with the methods our educators have been using to fill teaching vacancies they would go bankrupt in a week. "Wanted: Young men and women, at starvation wages, for a job without a future. Long hours. Hard work. Applicants are warned that they will be regarded as social inferiors in the community. Do not apply if you have any ambition to better yourself. Faithful service not appreciated. Please apply, regardless of these conditions, as you are badly needed."

This is the style in which teaching as a career has been advertised, not only stressing the adverse, but sometimes exaggerating and misrepresenting it.

Suppose, for a change, the case were put this way, as it could be in New York city: "Wanted: Young men and women to enter attractive profession. Starting pay immediately out of college, $2,500, or $2,700 if master's degree. Steady, automatic increases. Double your pay in a few years. Pleasant associations. Make new friends. Be paid while learning. Three-month vacation each year. Retirement pension. Leave of absence every seventh year. Advancement to high executive positions possible, paying $10,000, $15,000 and even $25,000."

Boyle's Column

A Lesson In Courage From A Vet's Hospital

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—A sudden blot in the brain struck down an elderly civil engineer at the peak of his career.

The stroke left him bed-ridden, voiceless, hopeless.

In time he came—on a stretcher—to the Manhattan Beach Veterans' Hospital in Brooklyn. He found company there among its "forgotten men," graduates of the first and second World War with ailments so serious their recovery chances were doubtful.

And he found women there who were willing to spend endless time to help him find his voice again. They were volunteer gay ladies from the Brooklyn chapter of the Red Cross.

They took him into a small room for treatment of victims of Aphasia, the loss of impairment of speech that comes from certain illnesses and brain injuries. It was a bright sunny room, but the engineer felt alone and lost. He wanted to be by himself.

"He would get hysterical and weep," recalled Miss Elizabeth Kelly, one of the gray ladies.

Couldn't Pronounce His Name.

The engineer watched morosely as Miss Kelly and Florence Conklin, another volunteer, held up small cards on which words had been printed. He saw other patients pronounce anew the words — "book," "bird," "eat"—simple childhood words that had become lost in the broken pattern of the vocal paths in their brains.

Gradually the engineer summoned up the will to try—to fight to overcome the damage wrought by the hidden enemy in him, a broken blood vessel. There was nothing wrong with his intelligence. He could still understand. He could still read. But he couldn't even pronounce his own name.

"Going Home For Easter?"

Word by word the engineer worked to recover his spoken vocabulary. Miss Kelly and Miss Conklin worked with him alternately, week after week, as long as his strength permitted. Sometimes he learned a word only to lose again the ability to say it—the vocal pattern had clouded once more.

Recently the engineer passed a milestone on his road to recovery. He turned to Miss Conklin and said unexpectedly:

"I'm going home for Easter."

Only five words—but they were the first complete sentence he had spoken in more than two years. And the engineer will be home for Easter, able to talk in some degree with his family. There is hope he will attain almost complete recovery—as some aphasia victims do.

Sometimes, if you think the world has kicked you around, go out to a Veterans Hospital—and get a lesson in courage.

The Berea Unit met at the home of Mrs. Albert Hall, with ten members and seven guests present. The guests included Mrs. Frank Foster, Mrs. Wesley Petefish and Mrs. Robert Foster and four small children.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. C. C. Williamson, acting in the absence of the chairman. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Jesse Petefish in the absence of the secretary.

Roll call was answered by telling something about a county outside of Morgan and Scott. The minor lesson, "Touring the Southern Part of Illinois" was presented by Mrs. Doyle Taylor. Mrs. Mildred Seeman, home adviser, gave the major lesson on "Conserving Our Soil."

Mrs. Williamson had charge of the recreational period, during which two contests were conducted. The winners were Mrs. Robert Foster and Mrs. Jesse Petefish. Refreshments in keeping with the theme of St. Patrick's Day were served.

Send Defendant In Theft Case To Bartonville

An indictment against Walter Lee Rhodes charging larceny of an automobile was nolleed in circuit court Wednesday on motion of State's Attorney Hall, with leave to reinstate. This action followed the commitment of Rhodes to the Bartonville state hospital as a mental patient.

The defendant was a patient at the Jacksonville state hospital several months ago when he is alleged to have stolen a car from the Tom Cornish used car garage here, and drove it to Iowa. He also was committed to an institution in Iowa before his return to Illinois.

Joseph Francis Reddish, under indictment on a charge of confidence game, entered a plea of innocent when arraigned Wednesday before Judge L. E. Wilhite. Reddish is alleged to have obtained possession of a car from the Walker Motor Co. through misrepresentation.

A white elephant sale followed the meeting, with Welby Pierce acting as auctioneer. Rook was played, with prizes being won by Glenn Strickler and John McGinnis.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orris Lindsay, with Mrs. Bernice Samples in charge of devotions and the program. The topic will be "Easter." Roll call will be answered by naming a favorite hymn.

Chief Recommends Seven Point Cleanup For Fire Protection

As the spring cleanup season arrives, Fire Chief Charles Lonergan issued an appeal Thursday to all residents of Jacksonville to eliminate fire hazards which have accumulated during the winter.

The chief said national records show that nine of every ten fires could be prevented. He recommended getting rid of combustible debris, cleaning and repairing heating plants and chimneys, having electrical equipment checked by a competent electrician, recovering flammable roofing with fire-resistant material, using non-flammable cleaning fluids, and constant care in the handling of matches and smoking materials.

The Jacksonville fire department is preparing to make a complete inspection of buildings in the business district. Firemen on off-shifts will inspect the interior and exterior of all buildings in the fire limits of the downtown district.

A seven-point spring cleanup program as outlined by the National Fire Protection association was recommended by Chief Lonergan. He said that if the rules were followed to the letter there would be a great reduction in the number of fires.

He asked that spring clean-up not be confined to homes but be extended to garages, sheds, stores and industrial buildings. All yards and grounds should be cleaned up, he said. He warned that rubbish, leaves, and dried vegetation should be burned in an incinerator and only on wind-free days. In the spring, conditions are ideal for conflagrations, he explained, because roofs are dry and winds are fresh. Wind can quickly whip sparks from a "harmless" trash fire to flammable roof tops or to tinder-dry fields and woodlands.

Chief Lonergan outlined this seven-point program of the National Fire Protection association:

1. Get rid of combustible debris—old magazines, old newspapers, discarded furniture, boxes and similar material. Rubbish can catch fire from a stray spark and can ignite spontaneously.
2. Heating plants and chimneys are dirty after months of continuous use during the winter. They should be cleaned and repaired if necessary.
3. Inspect other parts of the house which might have been harmed by winter weather. Pay special attention to roofs, replacing old wooden shingle roofing with fire-resistant asphalt shingles, asbestos, slate or metal roofing.
4. Check all electrical equipment. Repair defective equipment. Replace frayed cords.
5. Don't use flammable cleaning fluids. Non-flammable cleaners are available.
6. Keep oily rags in covered metal containers to forestall spontaneous ignition.
7. Never smoke in bed. Keep matches away from small children. Have plenty of ash trays available and always see that a cigarette or match is extinguished before discarding.

THE NEW
Plymouth—now on display

Now there's more difference than ever in low-priced cars—and the great New Plymouth makes the difference!

New Beauty

There's beauty in every sweeping new low line of it—and throughout its brilliant new interior. And this is beauty that's built on advanced engineering... to give you a great new automobile that handles easier, rides smoother, performs better—the greatest in a long line of great Plymouths!

New Vision

The greatly increased glass area is exactly where you need it—in the windshield and rear window. And the new design of the hood and the entire body gives the driver a clear, undistorted view of the road—in all directions—day or night—rain or shine! Blind spots are practically eliminated.

New Features

You just turn the ignition key and the engine starts! No buttons to push, no choke to pull. You save on oil and get longer engine life with new oil control piston rings and longer new chrome compression ring. These are just two of the great new features in the great New Plymouth.

New Comfort

Talk about room for comfort—the New Plymouth has it! Those famous chair-height seats are now even wider, and deeper from front to back. Long legs can stretch out and hats stay put. Diagonally mounted rear shock absorbers reduce sideway. You can drive this car for hours and still feel fresh.

The Beautiful New Plymouth Special De Luxe 4-Door Sedan with Longer 118" Wheelbase

New Safety

Safety has always been first with Plymouth—and this new car is safer than ever! It has a lower center of gravity. It hugs the road better. A completely new body construction makes it a sturdier automobile. Body and frame are 23% more rigid. You drive with a great new sense of security.

New Convenience

Because of less overhang, the New Plymouth is easy to park, easy to put in the garage. Fenders flow into the body but they're separate and detachable—and it doesn't cost a fortune to repair them! Windows lift and lower easier. Doors open wide—you get in and out of this car with ease!

New Performance

There's brilliant new power in the engine. This comes from a newly designed cylinder head, a higher compression ratio and a new intake manifold. When you step on it, you'll instantly feel this new surge of power. Here's the best performer of all the great performing Plymouths!

Greatest New Value

The only way to discover all of the great new things in the great New Plymouth is to see it—to sit in it—to drive it. Do this and you'll be convinced that—feature for feature—dollar for dollar—here's the greatest value of all! Compare it to any car at any price. See it NOW!

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth, who suffer real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time, do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FAS-TEETH, the alkaline, (non acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks plate odor. (Identifies breath). Get FAS-TEETH at any drug store.

centered around the famous pheasant country of South Dakota. It also presented lessons in safety in handling firearms, and preventing grass and brush fires.

Blue Nile Dam Frets Diplomats

Addis Ababa—(AP)—If at long last a dam is built across the headwaters of the Blue Nile at Lake Tana in Ethiopia, as has been reported recently, an old and complex diplomatic question will have been settled.

In this part of Africa, the Blue Nile dam problem has long occupied a prominent and permanent place in Anglo-Egyptian relations. Ever since the turn of the present century England's diplomatic activity in this particular part of Africa has been postulated on a Lake Tana dam concession, or at least a guarantee that no other interest should be permitted to tamper with the Lake Tana water supply.

Between World War I and World War II, Italian influence was strong in these parts. At the present time, for Egyptian affairs, Egypt has been independently involved. England and Egypt have long desired to dam the headwaters of the Blue Nile in order to regulate and insure water for the great Gezira irrigation project and the entire Nile water system.

Indian Railway Crowding Assailed

New Delhi—(AP)—Overcrowding in the lowest class carriages in Indian railways has gone to "shameful" extents, said K. Santanam, minister of state for railways, in the legislative assembly. He gave these figures to explain the cause of overcrowding:

"Passenger traffic had increased from 32 millions a month in 1939 to about 88 millions a month in 1948. The number of carriages, however, had decreased from 11,640 in 1939 to 10,630 in 1948."

British Health Ministry Sure Kinks Will Work Out As Program Settles Down

BY EDWIN SHANKE
London, March 17—(AP)—The British refer to the start of their sweeping experiment in socialized medicine as "the appointed day."

That was July 5, 1948. What has happened since? How is the program working?

For the patient the golden day was at hand. The ministry of health underestimated the demands by tens of millions of dollars.

Much of the scramble, a health ministry spokesman says, is a hang-over from the pre-July 5 days—a lack of facilities which still will take years to overcome and an accumulation of medical needs which many people couldn't afford before.

After July 5 every man, woman and child from king to lowly charwoman had the right to ask a doctor for free treatment and free medicine—providing the doctor had contracted to work in the program. Anyone who insisted on private care had to pay for his medicines.

Entered As Public Patient
When a patient went to the doctor for the first time, he took a little white card from the postoffice. He was entered on the doctor's list as a public patient.

The card was sent to the local health executive council. There are 138 of these bodies throughout the country. One part of the card goes into the doctor's file for accounting purposes. The other portion goes into the patient's file and formed part of his "case history." In London, he became one of 3,049,000 registrars.

Once registered, the patient just calls on the doctor whenever he feels he needs medical attention.

He doesn't have to worry how high the doctor's bill will be. The state does the bookkeeping. The doctor doesn't have to worry about bad risks. But his work—both professional and clerical—has zoomed.

The British Medical Journal quoted from a typical doctor's report: "No doubt treatment of trivial ills is being asked for on an unprecedented scale."

On the other hand, many doctors report patients are very considerate of their time. Some comment "it doesn't seem right to get all of this for nothing."

Ministry of health officials agree there have been cases of "frivolous and unnecessary use" of the health services.

"They are out to get as many tonics, drugs and baby foods as they can," says a Medical Association spokesman. "That puts an added burden on the doctor and undoubtedly detracts from his professional time."

Good For Nation's Health
The health ministry believes the overall increase of medical work for the doctors is good for the nation's health.

"We only are beginning to uncover the potential demands and needs for medical care," a health ministry spokesman says. "The patient is being looked at from the standpoint of what he needs on medical grounds and not what he can afford."

The ministry feels the present rush is exaggerated. "Knowing that the scheme was coming into operation, many patients delayed going to the doctors and dentists until they could get free care," a spokesman says.

Schoolman's Pay Check Bounces Back With Ike

Eisenhower, the educator, addresses freshmen at Columbia University; in a Chicago high school, the lesson was history.

By NEA Service

Chicago—(NEA)—Alice Brazda, a teacher at Harper High School on Chicago's South Side, was so impressed by a letter she got from her alma mater that she signed over her two-weeks' pay check and sent it along as a contribution.

The check didn't bounce, but Miss Brazda and her 39 teen-age students did a few weeks later. Right in the middle of a lesson on "The Early Colonies," in which the students had written the letter that impressed Miss Brazda.

The students may have been shaky about colonial history at that point, but they didn't have to be told who Dwight D. Eisenhower was, even in the civics classes he wears as President of Columbia University.

He just dropped in to thank Miss Brazda in person, Ike explained. He stayed to help out with the history lesson.

"The wonderful courage and bravery of the colonists," Columbia's Eisenhower reminded the students, "is something we have come to take too much for granted. . . . You here, today—all of us—are the inheritors of their courage and the ideals they stood for. Today we can go to the schools we want to, attend the church we choose, we can do the jobs we want to. We don't have to listen to anyone else. . . ."

"So no matter what the books say today, I believe what each one of us must remember when we read about the contribution the colonists made to American history and the American way of life is that it took awful lot of courage to start, and I urge all of you that you do not forget, above all things, that that courage is one of our rich inheritances, courage and the love of freedom."

City Of Jerseyville Faced With Water Supply Problem

Jerseyville—The problem of a suitable water supply for the City of Jerseyville remains an unsolved one, and State Board of Health officials are insisting that something be done about increasing both the quantity and the quality of the water being sold the consuming public here.

Harold Hudson of the State Health department was present at a meeting of the Jerseyville City Council and the Jerseyville Water Board Tuesday evening and went into detail regarding the local situation and possible liability of the city.

It was pointed out that the present supply of water is coming from springs which are dependent to a great extent on the rainfall in the area for maintenance of volume. This volume may be too small in the immediate future as a result of the growth in population of Jerseyville. Lack of a sufficient water supply creates a possible fire hazard in case of a serious conflagration in the city.

Bluffs OES Plans Officers Night

Past officers of the chapter will fill the chairs at the special program. All past officers are urged to attend.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, March 17—(AP)—Although fed lambs reached a new alltime price record of $30.00 today, a strong to 25 cents higher market, cattle and hogs were steady to 50 cents lower.

Good and choice butcher hogs sold from $18.75 to $21.50, the hogs made $15.25 to $18.00 and a top on these of $18.25. Clearance was good.

Choice steers brought as high as $27.00 with medium to low-choice kinds going between $22.50 and $26.00. Medium to low-choice heifers took $21.50 to $25.25. Best cows graded low-good and brought up to $19.00. Sausage bulls topped at $23.00 and vealers at $29.00.

Most fed lambs sold between $29.00 and $30.00 and ewes from $11.00 to $14.00.
Receipts included 8,000 hogs on sale, 5,000 cattle, 500 calves, and 2,500 sheep.

SOYBEANS TUMBLE 7 CENTS; ALL LARD CONTRACTS DECLINE

Chicago, March 17—(AP)—Weakness in soybeans and lard unsettled grains on the board of trade today. Soybeans fell as much as 7 cents at one time under urgent selling while all lard contracts tumbled under $12.00 a hundred pounds.

One reason for the soybean drop was a lowering in bids for cash offerings. A decline in live hog prices had some influence on lard.

Wheat, corn and oats were weak but held up much better than did soybeans and lard. Losses running to 2 cents in wheat were reduced late in the session. There appeared to be a good deal of selling of May wheat against purchases of the deferred months.

Receipts were: wheat 4 cars, corn 130, oats 29 and soybeans 19.
Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher. May $2.12 1/2-2.14, corn was 1/2 lower. May $1.26 1/2-1.28, oats were 1/2 lower. May $1.21, soybeans were 7/8 to 6 cents lower. March $2.21-2.21 1/2 and lard was 23 to 35 cents a hundred pounds lower. March $11.82.

Chicago Cash Grain

Chicago, March 17—(AP)—No wheat. Corn: No. 2 yellow, 1.30; No. 3, 1.26 1/2-28; No. 4, 1.15 1/2-24 1/2; No. 5, 92-117; sample grade, 80-112; No. 4 white, 1.32.

Oats: No. 1 heavy mixed, 76; sample grade heavy mixed, 73 1/2; No. 1 heavy white, 76 1/2-77.

Barley nominal; malted, 1.18-47; feed, 93-115.

Field seed per hundredweight nominal; timothy, 16.00-17.00; sweet clover, 15.00-16.00.

Soybeans: none.

New York Stock Market

New York, March 17—(AP)—A small group of stocks stayed well in front of a generally steady market today.

While the general run of issues moved up fractions to around a point, these favored stocks moved up an outside of around three points on comparatively large volume, many reaching the year's top prices.

Trading generally was at the same slow rate which has persisted, with a few interruptions, for a long time. Turnover was at the rate of around 300,000 shares for the full session.

Among the larger gainers were Douglas Aircraft, Pullman Tractor and American Woolen.

Unfavorable dividend news helped to lower Bendix Home Appliances more than a point to a new low for the year. Magnavox, another selling target, also hit a new low.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly. U. S. governments tended upward in over-the-counter dealings, in particular the 2 1/2s of September 1967-72 which are eligible for bank purchase.

Cattle 2,500; calves 800; general market showing easy undertone; some early sales of steers and heifers as well as cows about steady but later bidding unevenly lower; bulls and vealers steady; few loads and lots of good steers 23.25-25.00; some good quality replacement steers 23.00-50; good heifers and mixed yearlings 23.00-25.00; buyers showing a definite preference for weights under 800 lbs. however; common and medium cows largely 16.50-18.50; odd head good upward from 16.25; canners and cutters 13.50-16.50; medium and good bulls 20.50-21.50; cutter and common bulls 17.50-20.00; good and choice vealers 26.00-32.00; common and medium 20.00-25.00.

Sheep 500; active, strong market on mere handful of lambs; choice lambs very scarce; top same as Wednesday at 29.50; bulk wooled lambs 29.00-50; some lots less desirable quality 26.00-28.00 and occasionally down to 24.00 on common and medium kinds; short deck good and choice fall short lambs 28.50, which mates the lambs at 27.00 one week ago; slaughter ewes steady; scattered sales upward to 12.00.

Decatur Sets Scoring Mark; Tilden Swamps R.O.V.A.; Moline Wins

Decatur 82 Pittsfield 48
Champaign, Ill., March 17.—(P)—Decatur's Reds used a dazzling fast break to whip Pittsfield 82-48 today in the first game of the Illinois prep basketball tournament.

Decatur's 82 set a new title meet record for the most points scored in a single game.

The old record of 77 was set in 1945 by both Decatur and Champaign.

Coached by Gay Kintner, who has won three state titles, Decatur showed a rip-roaring speed game. It pierced Pittsfield's zone with deadly long and corner shots, chiefly by Don Ferral and Don Dare.

Mt. Vernon 54 Johnston City 52
Champaign, Ill., March 17.—(P)—Mount Vernon's Rams took a 54-52 victory from Johnston City today in the All-Southern Illinois second game of the state prep basketball meet.

Mt. Vernon's rough and tumble Rams, rated second to Elgin before the tournament, were in hot water all the way. But they finally overcame Johnston City's 422 shooting and press defense.

The Rams may do better tomorrow if their tall pivot man, Max Horow, doesn't foul out early as he did today with only 14 points. Bobby Lee backed-stopped him with 17 points today. Jack Williams paced Johnston City with 19.

Tilden 68 R.O.V.A. of Oneida 41

Champaign, Ill., March 17.—(P)—Tilden Tech's towering basketballers coasted to an easy 68-41 triumph over R.O.V.A. of Oneida today in the third game of the Illinois prep tournament's first round.

Tilden, from Chicago's stockyards area, is the largest school in the tournament and was a heavy favorite over R.O.V.A., the smallest.

Tilden romped to an 18-11 first quarter lead, and made it 32-21 at the half. Red haired Johnny Kerr, a 6 foot 8 inch center, and a five-by-five laid named George Macqua together flipped in 21 of these early points.

Tilden led 47-28 going into the final period.

The Blue Devils from the big city recklessly threw long passes in circles while outclassing the little fellows from Knox county.

Kerr, who got 19 points, sailed long pitches down to Macqua, whose

The Reds pounded 13 hits. Tribe pitchers walked six and hit four batsmen.

Zaharias, Kielty Tie In 1st Round Of Golf Tourney

Augusta, Ga., March 17.—(P)—Two selfing girls from the Far West, Babe Zaharias and Dot Kielty, came to the deep South today to take the lead after the first round of the titleholders tournament with two-under-par 73s.

Mrs. Zaharias, a professional from Denver, Colo., and Miss Kielty, an amateur from Long Beach, Calif., shot nearly identical rounds. Miss Kielty had six birdies and an eagle. The babe had five birdies. Both had sub-par first nines.

The Eagle, one of the few in the ten tournament history of the titleholders, was sunk after a 260-yard drive, a five-iron shot to the green and a 25-foot putt.

Mrs. Zaharias is one of five titleholders winners entered this year. Patty Berg, who shot a 77 today, is a four-times winner. Dorothy Kirby, with a 76 in the first round, has won twice. Other winners are Helen Hicks, of Woodmere, Long Island, N.Y., who announced her return to competitive golf today, and Louise Suggs, a professional from Carrollton, Ga. Miss Hick's 89 was next to the highest score and Miss Suggs' 80 predictions by blowing to an 80.

The six-foot-six Don Star pushed 24 points through the hoop to completely subdue the big Ohio team that had been favored for the championship after Monday's wave of upsets.

Lofgran, with the ease of a boy dropping apples into a wash tub, shoed in 10 field goals, hitting the basket from all angles. He also made four free throws.

Bowling Green's giant "tip in" specialist — six-foot-eleven Chuck share—scored 20 points, but was able to hit for only six field goals. Mac Otten, his six-foot-six mate, was held to one field goal, that early in the second half.

San Francisco prevailed mostly on scrap and hustle. The Dons repeatedly stole the ball from their bigger adversaries, intercepted the enemy's passes and outgamed them in the scrambles off the boards.

The west coast boys stepped off to a 31-22 lead at the half and then almost dissipated it with an eight-minute lapse at the beginning of the last session.

Bowling Green pulled up to within three points of the Dons, 35-33, after eight minutes and appeared ready for a victorious rally.

But the Dons—with Lofgran getting the range—moved 11 points in front, 44-33. It was too large a gap to overcome.

San Francisco made only six field goals after intermission, four of these by Lofgran.

Lovala rallied from a 31-22 deficit to take the opening game. Big Jack Kerris, Loyola's brilliant center, broke the bonds of a harrassing

Chicago, March 17.—(P)—Defending champions will return in seven of the eight individual events as a hand-picked field spins around Chicago Stadium in the 13th Chicago Relays Saturday night.

The headline event is the banker's mile. And the returning titleholder in that feature is the midwest's star of the indoor track season, little Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin.

Gehrmann, however, may not be able to shoot at the banker record of 4:06.4, established by now-retired Gil Dodds in 1944. The botlin' Badger, who ran a 4:09.5 in the Wana-maker mile of the Milrose games, has been sidelined by a cold this week. He is expected to run, but how fast is conjectural.

Gehrmann may be strictly on his own in the banker pace-making, with only Jerry Thompson, the tiny Texan, Carl Joyce of Seton Hall, and Ray Prophaska of Oklahoma A. & M. to give chase.

Frisco Whips Bowling Green, Loyola Defeats Bradley In N.I.T.

New York, March 17.—(P)—Scrap by San Francisco snapped Bowling Green's imposing winning streak, 49 to 39, and Loyola of Chicago turned back hard-driving Bradley University, 55 to 50, tonight to push into the finals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament.

Both went into the titular round the hard way, having to play and win three games. Loyola, a "rain check" team invited purely as an afterthought, had to dispose of Kentucky, the nation's top-ranking team, 67 to 56 in the quarterfinals.

Towering Bowling Green, winner of 15 straight and conqueror of defending champion St. Louis in last Monday's quarter-finals, ruled a five-point favorite in tonight's game.

The twin bill brought 18,301 paying spectators to Madison Square Garden, surprising New Yorkers who figured the absence of the favored teams would cause the crowds to fall off. It was the biggest crowd of the tournament to date.

The odds-makers failed to reckon with the phenomenal one-hand push shot owned by one Don Lofgran, San Francisco's wiry, curly-haired forward.

The six-foot-six Don Star pushed 24 points through the hoop to completely subdue the big Ohio team that had been favored for the championship after Monday's wave of upsets.

Lofgran, with the ease of a boy dropping apples into a wash tub, shoed in 10 field goals, hitting the basket from all angles. He also made four free throws.

Bowling Green's giant "tip in" specialist — six-foot-eleven Chuck share—scored 20 points, but was able to hit for only six field goals. Mac Otten, his six-foot-six mate, was held to one field goal, that early in the second half.

San Francisco prevailed mostly on scrap and hustle. The Dons repeatedly stole the ball from their bigger adversaries, intercepted the enemy's passes and outgamed them in the scrambles off the boards.

The west coast boys stepped off to a 31-22 lead at the half and then almost dissipated it with an eight-minute lapse at the beginning of the last session.

Bowling Green pulled up to within three points of the Dons, 35-33, after eight minutes and appeared ready for a victorious rally.

But the Dons—with Lofgran getting the range—moved 11 points in front, 44-33. It was too large a gap to overcome.

San Francisco made only six field goals after intermission, four of these by Lofgran.

Lovala rallied from a 31-22 deficit to take the opening game. Big Jack Kerris, Loyola's brilliant center, broke the bonds of a harrassing zone defense for 14 points in the last half to spark the rally.

Begorra, and they did it. W. Aurora did upset the highly touted Elgin outfit when they handed them a 45-52 setback in the first round of the tourney this p.m. It was a case of too much Bievers, as the W. Yes, this Bievers is a pretty fair county ball player—watch for his name in the all-state selections.

Little Nashville, the sentimental favorite, just pulled a few tricks out of the bag to stall Ottawa out of a 43 to 39 ball game. The district five came up with some unusual out-of-bounds plays that caught the Pirates on their heels and scored a couple of timely buckets in the closing minutes of play. Nashville will tangle with Moline in the quarter-finals.

State Tourney Sidelights

Champaign, Ill., March 17.—(P)—This year's Illinois prep basketball title chasers are the tallest in years, and the 1949 meet may go down as the one which revived the slow break style of 15 years ago.

The 80 starters of the 16 quintets average an even six feet.

The slow, deliberate tactics haven't been very popular since 15 years ago but at least five clubs may revert to the ball control strategy. They are Johnston City, West Rockford, Nashville, Ottawa and Decatur.

The hottest rumor on the eve of the 1949 extravaganza was that Elgin's 6 foot 7 inch center, Bob Peterson, had the mumps. But it isn't true. He's the boy who missed two games because he got the measles—and Elgin lost both of those games.

As usual the 16-act floor show starring 16 sets of fancy-dressed cheerleaders will pull thousands of eyes off the basketball. Most of the yell yankers are cute gals in skimpy skirts.

West Rockford and Oneida are quartered at the Hamilton hotel. The Innman houses Pittsfield, Pekin, Mt. Vernon, Ottawa, Hillsboro and Nashville. A. E. Urbana-Lincoln are Tilden, Elgin, West Aurora, Moline, Johnston City and Robinson. Sleeping at home are Decatur and Champaign.

Bob Hefflin, R.O.V.A. of Oneida's regular center, broke out in a measles rash Tuesday morning. But he still played against Tilden.

Oneida's tiny cheerleader popped up and down in short pleated skirts until Mt. Vernon's girls pranced out in the new look—long skirts below the knees. Johnston City's young ladies popped around in slacks. Decatur had a gal—Barbara Edwards—with three guys. Tilden—all boys school—gave out Ala baritone.

Some tournament tickets normally costing a total of $6 for all sessions, were reported sold privately for from $40 to $70. One hotel clerk said he saw an $85 deal.

Talk about hot shooting, howabout Decatur's dons? Don Ferral made seven of nine field tries, and Don Dare sank eight of 11, and Karl McMurtro made six of 10. No wonder the Reds averaged .564 with 35 of 62. Last year's best first round average was .456 by Collinsville.

Gov. Stevenson isn't expected at any of the games. He was offered a couple of tickets but didn't take them—even for friends.

Tilden's tall red haired star, Johnny Kerr, is headed for DePaul University. At 6-8 he's the biggest boy in the meet.

Two technical fouls were called on Johnston City. Both times Mt. Vernon converted the free throws and the two points spelled victory.

Little Nashville, beaten only once in 32 starts, was a sentimental favorite for bleacherites. Small town, small school—but biggest kids you ever saw.

Nashville Five Whips Ottawa 43-39; Pekin Spills Robinson 60-52

Nashville 43, Ottawa 39
Champaign, Ill., March 17.—(P)—Nashville's lanky Hornets were hard put tonight to squeeze out a 43-39 decision over Ottawa in the sixth game of the first round of the Illinois high school basketball finals.

Nashville, fourth ranked quintet in the finals, trailed Ottawa most of the way.

As evening activity got started Ottawa's sturdy Pirates threw a real scare into heavily favored Nashville before yielding a 43-39 decision.

Ottawa, steadier and more alert, took a 9-7 first quarter advantage and didn't relinquish it until midway in the final period.

The towering Nashville quintet took command 36-35 with less than four minutes left when Bob Kimppling hit a 25 footer. Ottawa caught up 37-37 but then faded in the last 90 seconds. Kimppling and Forward Walter Novak each bagged 13 points for Nashville. Husky Gene Zuzzarini marked Ottawa with 14.

Pekin 60 Robinson 52
Champaign, Ill., March 17.—(P)—Pekin's Chinks from the Big 12 conference upset Robinson's fourth seeded Maroons 60 to 52 tonight. Tiny Bobby Watson rang up 21 points to help Pekin become a quarter finalist in the Illinois high school basketball tournament.

Pekin's victory over Robinson, a mild upset compared with Elgin's downfall, was dealt almost single-handedly by Watson.

The pint-sized marksman made 11 of 20 field goal tries. The whole Pekin team was hot, though. It averaged 415 while Robinson hit at a .361 rate.

SCOUTS HONOR FRIEND, EAGLE BADGES AWARDED AT COURT

W. O. Randall of Jacksonville, chairman of the Honest Abe character court, congratulated two new Eagle Scouts and their mothers at the Court of Honor held at the courthouse Wednesday evening.

A few moments later the Scouts turned the tables, when their spokesman, Eagle Scout Bill Brunk, presented a trophy to Mr. Randall in recognition of his enthusiastic work in behalf of Scouting.

The trophy consisted of a small cast Scout statue mounted on a black base. The Scouts were disturbed because the inscription plate hadn't arrived in time for the ceremony but they've been assured that it will "arrive any day now."

The two Jacksonville boys who won Eagle Scout badges, Scouting's highest rank, were Lee C. Shine and Frank Phillips. Their mothers received the Eagle Scout Mother's badge, for Boy Scout leaders recognize the impossibility of any boy achieving this rank without "plenty of encouragement from home."

The pictures show: Eagle Scout Shine pinning the Mother's Badge on Mrs. Hill Shine, 623 E. Beecher avenue.

District Chairman Edward D. Bargery looks on approvingly as Mr. Randall and Scout Brunk exchange the Scout salute and the trophy.

Pittsfield Man Killed In Fall From Skidding Car On Ebaugh Corner

Winchester—George Williamson, Pike county farm manager, was killed at 8:45 p.m. Thursday at Ebaugh corner, on Route 36 about two miles west of Riggston, when he was thrown out of a skidding 1949 Oldsmobile convertible coupe driven by Charles Christy, also of Pittsfield.

Accompanied by a third Pittsfield man, Edward Lowery, they were returning from Champaign where they saw Pittsfield lose to Decatur in the opening game of the Illinois basketball finals.

Partially blinded by the snowstorm, Christy evidently failed to see the treacherous corner in time. The car skidded on the concrete, turned around and came to rest headed north. Williamson was found several feet south of the car.

Kenneth Cunningham, coroner of Scott county, said Williamson suffered a crushed chest. Death was probably due, however, to hemorrhage which followed a compound fracture of the left leg in which the femoral artery was severed.

Christy, who is a salesman for the Winston Motor company in Pittsfield, suffered a cut on his head. He was taken to Illini hospital in Pittsfield.

Lowery, real estate man and contractor in Pittsfield, received a shoulder injury. He was permitted to go home after medical examination.

The new automobile was not damaged much. It did not overturn, but the right side of the vehicle was buckled.

Williamson, about 38 years old, was a veteran of World War II. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Williamson. A manager of several farms in the Pittsfield vicinity, he was associated with his brother, Orvie, in the operation of a cigar store in Pittsfield. He was unmarried.

The body was removed to the Plattner Funeral Home in Pittsfield. Coroner Cunningham plans to hold the inquest in Winchester Saturday evening.

Clinton Favorite Variety As Farms Plant 1949 Oats

A few farmers of this area have gotten off to a flying start for the 1949 season. St. Patrick's day is favored by some as a prime oats seeding date and they got their wishes this year.

Here and there the ground was dry enough for plowing.

The majority of the oats planted this year will be Clintons, the recently developed variety that has won high favor throughout the Cornbelt. Some farmers have been able to get some Clinton 11 seed, a selection from the original cross that has resisted all attempts to infect it with the diseases which demolished the Victoria crosses.

Plant scientists find that about five percent of the original Clinton variety succumb to helminthosporium blight when infected under greenhouse conditions.

Other Morgan county farmers have purchased supplies of Clinton 59, similar to Clinton 11 but developed by Indiana specialists. Both of these selections seem to ripen more evenly than the original variety. The stalks are also a little more even.

Dr. K. C. Hackleman, University of Illinois crops specialist who did so much to popularize Clinton oats, recalled earlier this month that there were only 25 pounds of Clinton seed available back in 1943, when the oats were approved for superior qualities. That 25 pounds was first multiplied into 50 bushels, then to 1,208 bushels by the fall of 1944.

Illinois got 200 bushels of that supply for 1945 seedings. The total supply was located to 21 million bushels of certified seed in 1947.

Dr. Hackleman has been given a variety-searching assignment that will take him to all states of the U.S. and some foreign countries during the next year.

Tribune Writer Tells BPWC Of News Work

Emphasizing that "a newspaper is the product of not one, but many persons," William Clark, Chicago Tribune financial writer, gave members of the Business and Professional Woman's club a general picture of newspaper work at the club's regular meeting Thursday evening at the Dunlap hotel.

In his talk Mr. Clark covered three phases of news coverage, "reporting, reporting and what can be done to improve the calibre of service newspapers perform."

"The seven stages from the beginning of a story to the printing include assignment, gathering information, reporting the story, writing it, copy reading and editing, assigning the story space and place and the mechanical steps such as proof reading," he stated.

"Because people are the main sources of news," Mr. Clark declared, "the reporter must be able to make friends and get along with the individual. And, of course, he must observe confidences. A reporter must combine speed with accuracy to turn out a true version of what really happened. Writing ability is a necessity."

Mr. Clark went on to say that "the public has much to do with the calibre of the story. It is up to the subscribers to read the story thoroughly. They are to get the benefits of the reporting and the reporters. For if the reporting is inaccurate or if the reading is inaccurate, the story is lost."

Mr. Clark, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Clark of this city, was formerly associated with the Jacksonville Journal-Courier. He received his education in the local public schools and Illinois College. He is married and resides in Skokie, Ill.

The meeting was arranged by the news service committee. Miss Minnie Wyatt, chairman, introduced the speaker. Miss Blanche Spall, president, presided.

Edward Hill and Wanda Harrell, Jacksonville high school seniors, presented several vocal solos. They are the students of Mrs. Sarajane Brown. Group singing was led by Mrs. Martha Patterson, with Mae Hecker accompanying.

A large number from the Jacksonville club will attend the district meeting March 27 at 2223 W. Main street, Beardstown. At that time the Beardstown club will observe its 25th anniversary. Other groups included in the district are Carrollton, Pittsfield, Havana and Rushville.

At the next meeting, April 17, the election of officers will be held and officers' reports will be presented. Marjorie Klitner and Marguerite Schoedsack will compose the supper committee. An executive board meeting will be conducted at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday at the library.

Guests were Mrs. S. N. Clark, Lena Mae Hopper, Mrs. Marie Shearburn and Mrs. Dorothy O'Neal.

PARENTS OF SON
Mr. and Mrs. Myron L. Robinson of Los Angeles are the parents of a son, David Lee, born March 13 at California Lutheran hospital. Mrs. Robinson is the former Jeanne Haney of this city.

Remodeled Warga Walgreen Agency Opens Friday

Walgreen Officials To Attend Opening Of Local Store

Division Heads, Drug Officials Represented

Attending the formal opening of the Warga Walgreen Agency Store here Friday will be several officials from the Walgreen Agency Division in Chicago. Mr. R. E. Walker, founder of Agency Division of Walgreen Co. Mr. F. J. Daugherty, general sales manager, agency division, Mr. G. W. Kimple, district supervisor and Mr. R. E. Menard. Also several officials of Meyers Bros. Drug Co. McKesson and Robbin Drug Co., St. Louis will be present for the opening. Also officials of McKesson and Robbin, Peoria, Ill.

Walgreen officials point out that the modernization here is a part of a vast national program to convert all Walgreen Agency Drug Stores into super type drug stores in keeping with a pre-determined plan to keep these independent drug stores, leaders in their respective communities.

The Warga Walgreen Agency was started in Jan. 1935 at 40 North Side Square. Late in 1938 it outgrew the quarters and was moved to 68-70 East Side Square in the Rabjohn & Reid Dept. store bldg. It began operation at that location Dec. 10, 1938.

DISTRICT HEAD

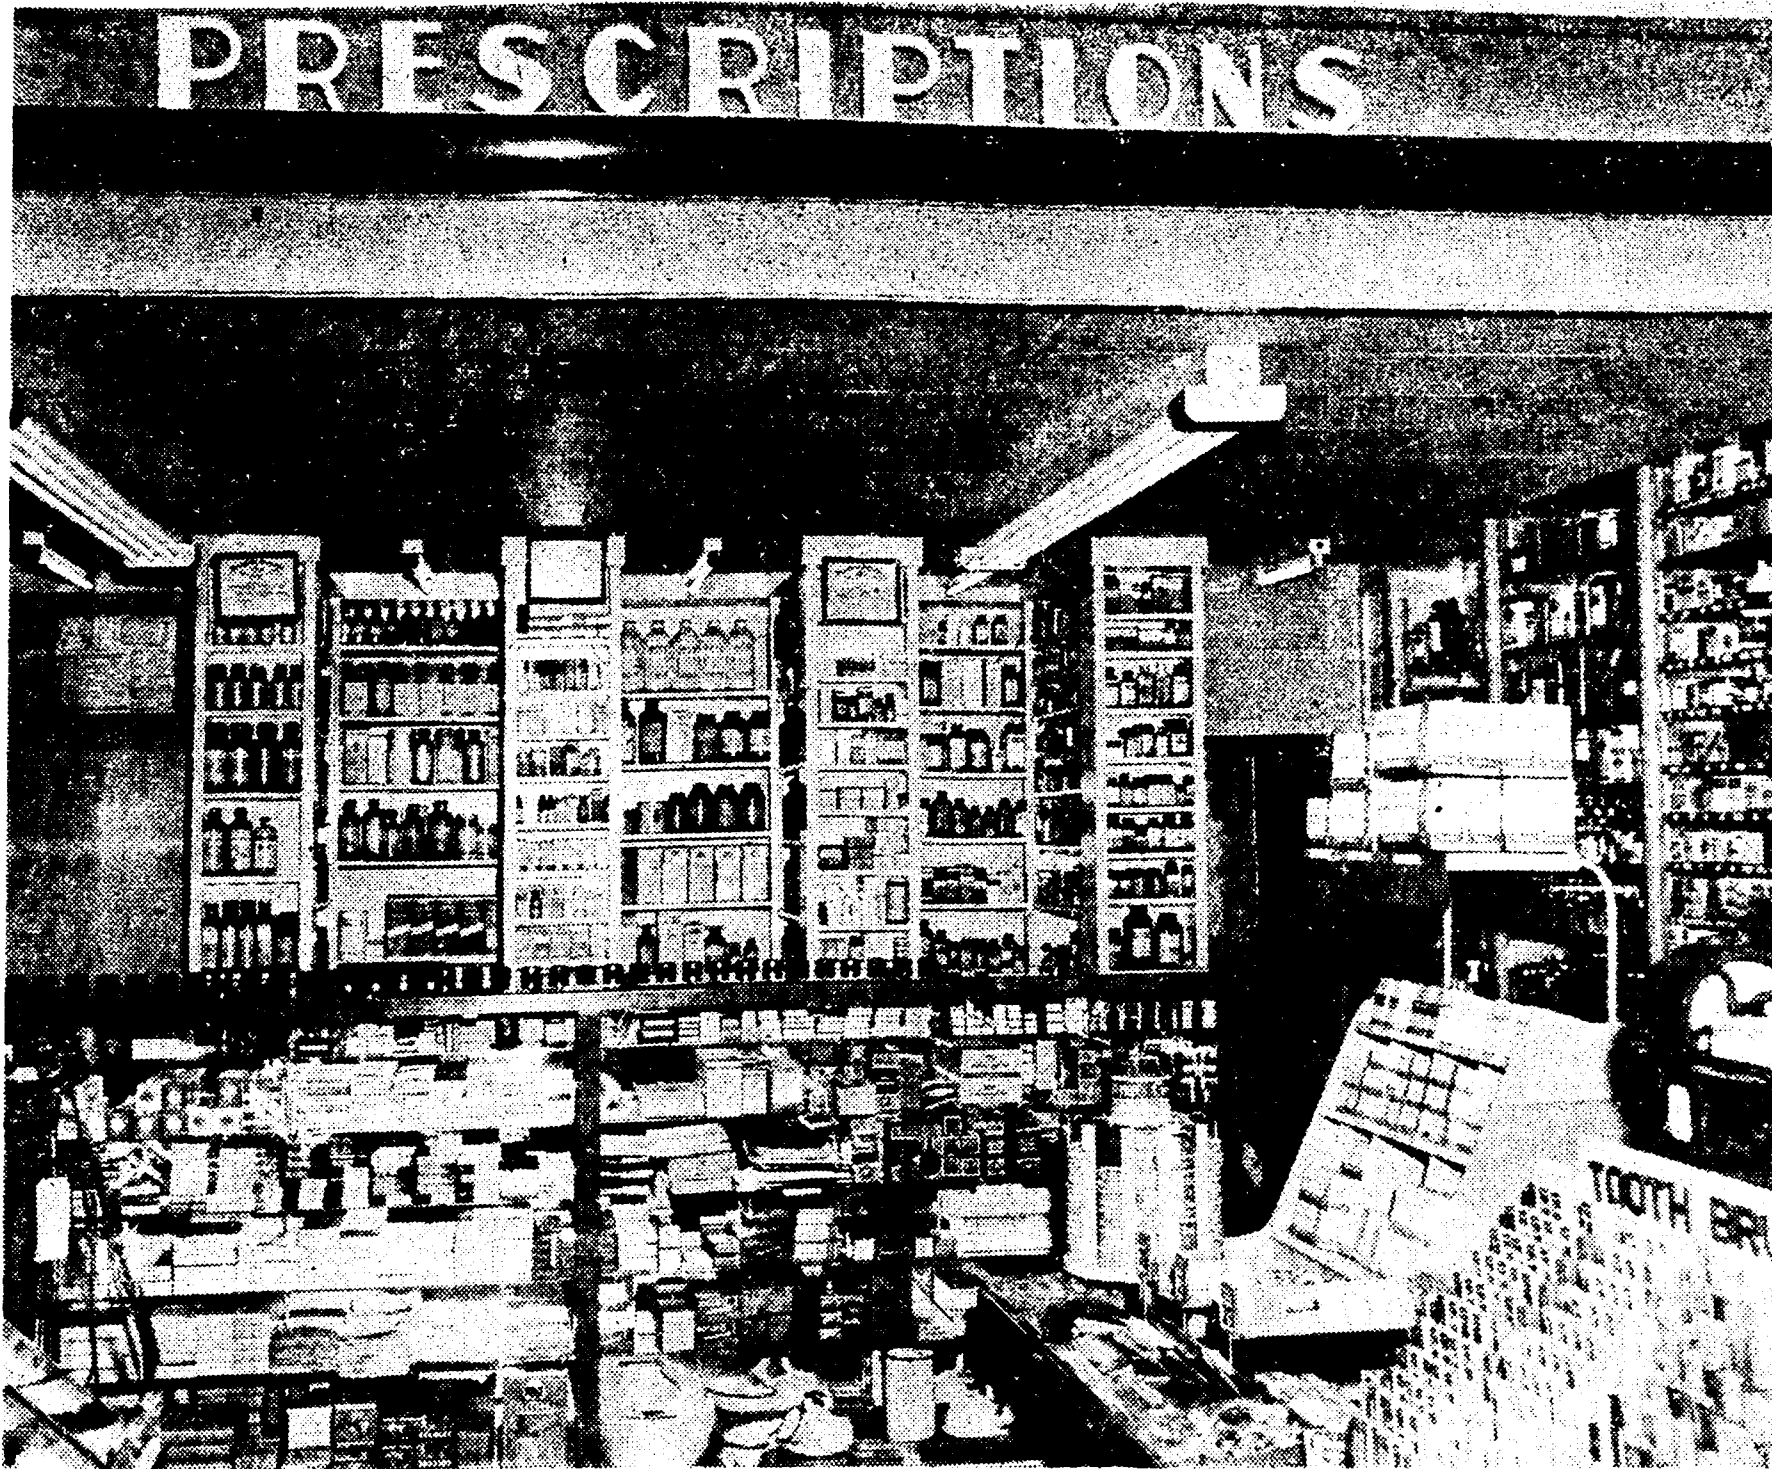

G. W. KIMPLE

Continued growth then forced the present remodeling to handle the extensive lines handled.

Twenty-four full time employees are employed steadily and add considerable payroll to local people.

Twelve people are employed in Fountain and Luncheonette Dept.

Mr. F. C. Fitzsimmons is in charge of floor sales assisted by staff clerks. Mr. Charles Russell is merchandising and display man. Mr. James Brunner is stock room manager.

Rated As One Of The Finest Drug Stores In This Section

Opening of the newly remodeled Warga Walgreen Agency Drug Store at 68-70 East Side Square here Friday brings to Jacksonville one of the finest and most modern drug stores to be found in this section of the state. Construction work on the new store was begun in April, 1948 and was completed by local contractors in accordance with a pre-tested design for modern super drug stores developed by the Walgreen Company over a period of many years of experimentation.

The harmonizing green glass and white metal exterior of the new full vision front of the Warga Walgreen Agency Drug Store is both simple and attractive. Through departmentalized functional arrangement the 4000 square foot interior has been laid out to make shopping an exciting adventure rather than a tiresome ordeal. Under one roof is incorporated the equivalent of many specialty departments. Drugs, tobaccos, cosmetics, candy, and electrical appliances are but a few of the many quickly identified departments that make up this modern drug store.

Outstanding Structural Features

With over 1,100 lineal feet of fluorescent tubing, the lighting used is one of the many noticeable improvements in the new store. Providing up to five times as much illumination as conventional incandescent installation, this newest form of lighting affords many additional comforts. It's cooler, shadowless and absolutely glare free. Incorporated into the modernization program for all Walgreen Agency stores throughout the nation, this installation was handled by the Gano Electric of Jacksonville. Plumbing facilities for the modernized soda fountain, capable of serving 48 at the fountain and in the booths at a single sitting, were installed by Swain-Myers Inc. of Decatur, Ill. The new fountain incorporates all of the late developments for fast, sanitary food preparation and is equipped to handle peak loads with a maximum of speed and efficiency. The fountain will be under the supervision of Mrs. J. J. Warga.

Drug Department Outstanding

Pointing out that the heart of all drug stores is a complete and well inventoried drug section, Mr. Warga owner of the remodeled Warga Walgreen Agency Drug Store, stated that the new drug department had substantially improved facilities for public health and comfort. Vitamin preparations, for example, will be carried in this department in a wide variety of potencies and combinations. In addition, such standard drug department items as tonics, antiseptics, counter-irritants and denturifics will be in constant supply.

Emphasis on Prescriptions

In keeping with the re-awakened national concern in public health, the prescription department of the remodeled Warga Walgreen Agency Drug Store has been patterned after a model scientific laboratory. Delicate balances and graduated flasks of the greatest accuracy are but a few of the many pieces of laboratory equipment installed to assist the pharmacist in becoming your physicians' strongest ally in the fight against disease. Under careful dating control, assuring the maximum in potency and freshness, thousands of drugs, vaccines and serums, gathered from the four corners of the earth will be carried in this single department.

Sick room supplies and a wide variety of emergency supplies for physicians and surgeons round out the completeness of stock in this modernized department.

Enlarged Cosmetic Department

Women will find the cosmetic department of the newly remodeled store one of the most complete and attractive in town. With a comprehensive representation of all the leading famous names in beauty care, the department is stocked to meet every need from an orange stick to complete matched toiletry sets. As a gift center, it will be one of the store's busiest sections. According to Miss Francis Lippert, experienced cosmetician in charge of the department, the new lighting fixtures will be a distinct advantage to women desirous of seeing how the various shades of lipstick and powders complement their particular type of beauty since the illumination closely approximates natural daylight. Miss Francis Lippert has been with the Warga Walgreen Agency Store since June 1944 and is well versed in all phases of beauty care.

Modern Cigar Department

Comparable in every respect to the facilities maintained by exclusive modern tobacconists are the provisions in the new cigar department for constant freshness of all merchandise. Contrary to popular belief, dampness alone is not enough for proper tobacco storage. In addition, the humidified air must be kept in constant circulation if cigars are to retain their factory fresh flavor. Special humidifying and air circulation devices, built into the cigar cases assure ideal storage conditions twenty four hours a day for a complete variety of tobacco products. Pipe and cigarette smokers too, will find the department a focal point. Complete cigarette stocks plus a range of pipes from the inexpensive cornucob to imported briars and smokers' accessories will be featured.

Special Attention to Veterinary Supplies

Second only to human welfare in importance, in the opinion of Mr. Warga, is the department in the new store devoted exclusively to poultry and livestock remedies. As setting that a strong and well-fed America is dependent upon a constant supply of healthy farm animals, Mr. Warga said that the overall remodeling program incorporated special consideration for the veterinary section. Full provisions and facilities to stem the outbreak of epidemics in both poultry and livestock will be maintained at all times.

Large Liquor Department

A real asset to home entertaining is the well stocked liquor department in the remodeled store. Popular selections of wines, whiskies, and cordials will be stocked in a departmentalized section of the store that will enable the purchaser to make his selection from more than two score leading advertised brands.

Sweet Tooth Section Large

Americans, who annually consume more candy than the people of any other country, have long associated a well stocked candy department with the neighborhood drug store. Local stimulant to this healthy nation's appetite will be the large candy department in the new Warga Walgreen Agency Drug Store. Boxed candies as well as a wide variety of bar goods will be featured. Special attention will be given to gift packages according to Mr. Warga who said that a well rounded candy stock is essential to modern super drug store operation.

Camera Stocks Increased

Owners of both candid and conventional box type cameras will find the enlarged camera section a major attraction in the remodeled store. In addition to a wide variety of film stocks, and a line of popular priced cameras, the section will also feature developing solutions and printing papers for the more advanced amateur shutterbugs. Arrangements have been completed for prompt delivery of the more expensive and highly specialized pieces of camera and dark room equipment. Photo finishing of high quality is also planned as a feature of this department.

New Household Supplies Center

Housewives who prefer the advantages of self-service shopping for household items will find the mass-merchandise island display stands in the center of the store much to their liking. Here, a wide variety of every day household needs are concentrated in the new Warga Walgreen Agency Drug Store. Seasonal rotation of stocks, with house-cleaning items featured in the spring and picnic supplies during the summer months will serve to keep stocks both varied and current.

Store Home Owned and Operated

Ownership and management of the Warga Walgreen Agency Drug Store is completely a local operation. Mr. John J. Warga is sole owner. He has resided in this community for the past 14 years. He was connected with the Walgreen Co. in Chicago for seven years prior to coming here. He managed stores for the company in Chicago and Logansport, Ind. Mr. Warga is a registered pharmacist.

Under the terms of his Agency franchise, Mr. Warga was accorded the advantages of chain store merchandising methods and mass buying power while retaining the independence and flexibility of private ownership.

Today, the store continues to enjoy the competitive advantages of modern chain store operation while continuing its value to the community as a locally owned enterprise. For example, the great drug manufacturing facilities of the national Walgreen organization in Chicago, with a quality line of over 1,500 popularly priced drug and cosmetic items, is available to the people of this community. In addition, advertising and merchandising procedures pre-tested by the Walgreen Company, in company owned stores, also provided Mr. Warga.

Created ham is delicious served over crisp Chinese noodles; the noodles may be bought in cans. Serve a salad of canned yellow chile peach halves, watercress, and new store devoted exclusively to Franch dressing with it.

XL
LIEUTENANT LAY tossed the statement on his desk and said, "Run through it again."

Sagmon Robottom sat on a hard wooden chair beside Lay's desk in the cubbyhole that served the homicide chief as an office.

"I did the wrong thing," he said hoarsely. All the hard lines of his face that had been stern now seemed confused and ineffectual.

Lay tapped the statement, "Run through those bare facts again." Leaning against the closed door, Thelma Loomis brushed ashes from her blue patrolman uniform.

Robottom cleared his throat. "I'm an archaeologist, Lieutenant. I first told the story of the lost Spanish galleon to Barselou more than a year ago. Naturally, I was eager to locate it. So was he and—well, we pooled our talents."

"As time passed, I discovered that Barselou regarded the ship almost fanatically. I knew that it was the Reina's jewels rather than the relics. I made myself overlook his personal motives. But believe me, Lieutenant, I didn't realize how far he'd go!"

"Go on," said Lay inflexibly. Robottom stared with gray unseeing eyes at the floor. "I supplied him with maps and what knowledge I possessed. He hired a man named Anglin to do the exploration and promised to sponsor an expedition later. A week ago I hurried here from Los Angeles. Anglin had found the ship."

"You certainly hurried," Thelma Loomis put in.

ROBOTTOM went on, "Barselou phoned me Saturday night that a man and a woman named Jones, masquerading under the name of the Reina's Robottom, were trying to beat us to the Reina."

"Lieutenant, those relics would have doubled my reputation. I had to discover them first!"

"All right."

"I thought I might be able to bluff the Conovers out. I talked to the woman and thought I had succeeded. I was wrong."

"What about this Faye Jordan?" Lay pressed.

"I met her once—this morning. That's all, Lieutenant. We talked for a few minutes and I gave her a card to Barselou's—ah—"

"Casino," said Lay evenly. "I know about it." He consulted Thelma Loomis' skeptical expression and then turned again to the man across the desk. "You might be in pretty hot water now, you know that? Conspiracy, possible accessory to a murder, intimidation—"

Robottom attempted to straighten the creases of his soiled white trousers but his strong hands were shaking. "What are you going to do to me, Lieutenant?"

"What'll you do if I let you go?" No hopeful shade crept into Robottom's eyes. His dull voice replied automatically. "Why—I'll go home—my wife—"

The police officer said, "Recognition and this statement will do me for now. Keep in touch."

IT took John Henry, Barselou, Sin and Trim with his revolver a half hour to climb the 200 feet up to the suspended ship. Anglin had done his work well. A rough ladder of deep steps had been chipped in the soft stone of one cliff, leading up to the stern of the Queen.

Sin clutched at the crude stone steps and kept her eyes as nearly closed as she dared. Then suddenly, to one side, was a rotting balcony of sand-covered wood. She grabbed for it and John Henry pulled her onto the deck of the galleon.

"No wonder I couldn't spot it from the air," Barselou muttered. This topmost deck was heaped with sandy dirt and small rocks. Sagebrush, mesquite, a few struggling wild flowers had taken root. From above, it would seem a piece with the surrounding Badlands.

The masts were three broken stumps that barely poked through the small dunes on the main deck below them. Near one rail, the pocket back of a cannon still showed above the sand. John Henry looked nervously at the rock walls which held the Queen in place. Then he scanned the ground level a few feet over his head.

Trim interpreted the glance and chuckled. "No, Mr. Conover. Down into the hold. That's where the chests will be."

Barselou led the way lightly, but at every step the timbers beneath him creaked and groaned. The four picked their route gingerly across the towering deck, down a rotting flight of steps, and into the low waist of the galleon. Part of the decking had fallen away here, exposing the deck below and forming a sloping incline that joined the two levels.

John Henry eased himself down the splintering boards. Then he extended a hand back to Sin. "They crossed the Pacific in this little boat?" she asked.

"They didn't know any better," said John Henry.

"The risk for the profit," Barselou said heavily.

Trim sidled away from them, his pug-nosed face leaning over the pistol barrel as though he had scented their thoughts. "I warn you, I shed my compunctions easily."

Sin shuddered up against her husband and extended a trembling forefinger. "Look at them!" Sprawled around the deck in haphazard piles were collections of bleached bones. A skull stared at them with hollow eyes as the rising sun caressed it.

"Arvaez' crew," Barselou said in tones almost scholarly. Trim, in his red knee breeches and long blue coat, seemed a fit commander for the ghost ship. He wasn't looking at the bones on the cannon or the empty hold. His sharp eyes raced around the corners of the shadowy deck. Then he let out a whoop of triumph.

Bavarian Linen Maker Salvages U.S. Steel

Pueblo, Colo.—Eugene Untermyer has made a big and successful jump from making fine linen in Bavaria to salvaging iron at Pueblo's steel mills.

The 63 year old man fled Germany with his family in 1939. He first behind one of Bavaria's largest linen plants which he'd owned for 40 years.

He tried selling books in New York City to maintain his wife and two children. But at the suggestion of a third son he trekked westward to Colorado. The son was with U. S. ski troops in training at Camp Hale near Leadville.

Untermyer took a job with a New York metal salvage company. It was trying to recover metal from the slag dumps of the Alameda steel mills of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. The New York firm abandoned the work because it couldn't make a profit.

Untermyer took a job with a job himself. He obtained a contract from the CP&I and took it where other firms had failed. He is operating a big operation now in the recovery of the metal. The project involves the eventual working over of about six miles of dumps which are mountains of blast furnace slag.

Powder charges blast loose the material and four bulldozers pick it aside in swaths while workers pick over the dislodged scrap. Most of the recovered metal is in small pieces but some recoveries weigh a half-ton. Trucks haul the accumulations to the steel mills where they are used with other scrap in the open hearth furnaces in making steel.

Untermyer speaks five languages and is an expert in the derivation of words. He is also a metallurgist. "America is the land of opportunity," he says. "Any man can learn to do anything."

Men At Work

Only a few years ago the expression "as busy as a harness maker in March" meant something. Signs of the approaching spring caused the farmers to look over their harness. Work that should have been brought in soon after Thanksgiving landed in the shops, usually with the statement, "I'd like to pick it up Saturday."

At the peak of the period when harnesses furnished most of the power, there were five or six harness shops in Jacksonville. Every town in Morgan county had one or more. And a few farmers were skilled enough to repair their own harness and that of their neighbors.

Morgan farmers now say "Solomon is the only place I know where I can get harness repaired and oiled."

J. I. Solomon has been running the hardware store in Murrayville since the fall of 1918. He kept a harness maker until six years ago. Charles Marsteiner worked for him 12 years.

The photograph shows Mr. Solomon at his stitching horse putting the finishing touches to a pole-strap.

"I guess I'm the only man left in the business," Mr. Solomon confessed. "But I don't like the work and I'm going to quit just as soon as I use up the $75 worth of harness hardware and leather I have on hand." His former friends say, "He won't quit" and hope they're right.

Mr. Solomon uses the traditional "wax-end" for stitching harness. It consists of four or six strands of Irish linen thread coated with shoe-maker's wax, with a needle at each end. Four strands are satisfactory for "ordinary work" and six strands are used on traces and other heavy pieces.

It ordinarily took a good harness maker about four days to make a double set of work harness. The Murrayville shop usually sold about 40 sets a year and repaired and oiled about 75 sets. During the first year Mr. Solomon ran the store he sold a set of work harness, complete with collars and one and one-half inch tugs for $32.50. Before World War I was over the same harness sold for $18.50.

Leather is higher priced now than it was in 1918, but it's also better. Mr. Solomon feels. Since 1943 it has been sold under standards of specifications set up for the trade by the federal government. Formerly brown leather was always filled with paraffin or a similar substance. Black leather was ordinarily filled with powdered steel or some other metal that would boost the weight. The steel dulled the special cutting knives used by harnessmakers.

"I can cut a lot of black leather today and still have a sharp knife," Mr. Solomon said.

One wall of the hardware shop gives an indication of the extensive harness business of only a few years ago. Twenty racks on the wall carried the assortment of collars, different sizes, grades and prices. "I've had as high as a hundred collars on hand at one time," Mr. Solomon recalled. "Now I have three cloth collars and don't know when I'm going to get rid of them."

Walgreen's Rapid Growth Attributed To Quality, Service

Back when the price of round steak averaged around 15 cents a pound, Jim Jeffries was the heavyweight champion of the world, and this country's national debt amounted to only $14.89 per capita; a young Illinois farmer, recently returned from the Spanish-American War, laid the foundation for today's most progressive national retail drug organization. It was the year 1901—the year in which the late C. R. Walgreen, Sr., purchased his first drug store on the south side of Chicago.

Physically, there was nothing to distinguish Walgreen's first drug store from the thousands of other drug stores that had already become an important part of the American scene. The same red and green liquid filled globes beckoned from the store windows. The same glass jars of peppermint and lemon drops were aligned in tempting array atop the show case for boxed chocolates. As in other drug stores of the day, the pharmacist was known as "Doc"; a friend and counselor on practically all things physical and political.

However, beyond physical similarity, there was much to distinguish Walgreen's first drug store from others of that area. It was the neighborhood drug store with a personality—Walgreen's own, in fact. In his store, there was an added "something" that customers noticed with every purchase. Clerks were a little more courteous—service had a touch of more personal interest to it.

A typical example of this added something, was Walgreen's original brand of home delivery service. Although home delivery was already an established practice with drug stores, Walgreen contrived a method to make his home delivery seem just a little speedier. When a customer phoned, he would motion to a nearby drug clerk to assemble the order as he called it off. Then, while the order was being filled and hurried on its way, Walgreen would engage the customer in friendly conversation. Often as not, the order would arrive at its destination before Walgreen and his customer had terminated their telephone visit.

It is only logical that a store with such revolutionary ideas about service to the customer, should not only succeed but become the cornerstone for a national empire of such stores as well.

Having established leadership in the retail drug industry for his own stores, Walgreen next considered the broad field of retail pharmacy. Feeling that the same practices and policies that had established his own stores as national leaders would do the same for independent druggists on a local scale, Walgreen and an associate, R. E. Walker, developed the Walgreen Agency Plan. Basically, the plan was packaged service to the independent druggist that gave him the benefits of Walgreen's mass operations without jeopardizing his independent status. Under the personal direction of R. E. Walker, the plan has given tangible evidence of its merit through the years.

A registered pharmacist himself, C. R. Walgreen, Jr., today carried forward the family tradition of leadership in the retail drug business. As president of the Walgreen Drug Co., he continues to follow and expand the broad merchandising principles established by his late father. Although, with more than 400 stores from coast to coast, he is no longer able to supervise personally the delivery of every telephone order; his determination that Walgreen Drug Stores shall be outstanding in every community is none the less resolute. The WARGA Walgreen Agency Store here is the type that many years of company research has shown the public prefers to shop in. Consequently a vast program is now under way by Walgreen's to assist in transforming all of their Agency stores throughout the nation into modern super drug stores. Structurally, these stores will be as far advanced over the contemporary drug store of today as they, in turn, are over the drug store of 1901. They will, in fact, combine the engineering improvements of today with the professional dignity of the past.

Passing Of The DC-3 Mourned Like Model T

BUT DON'T CRY too soon: "Old Doug" will keep on flying with new wings and tail shown on this model. Dotted lines trace its familiar old shape.

By S. BURTON HEATH
 NEA Staff Correspondent

New York (NEA)—The famous old DC-3, "workhorse of the air lines," is on the skids, and all over the civilized world airmen are bemoaning its passing as men haven't wept about a vehicle since Ford stopped making the Model T.

The good old "Dizzy Three" is being tossed into the ash can this spring by American Airlines, biggest of domestic carriers. Other major lines will soon replace their DC-3s too, mostly with 40-passenger, 340-mile-an-hour Convairs and Martin 202s.

But canny planemaker Donald Douglas says it's too soon to cry. "The 'Old Doug' hasn't stopped flying yet, and he's all ready to revamp it to keep it in the air for a long time to come."

More DC-3s have been built than any other single plane—more probably, in fact, than of all other passenger-type planes put together. More millions of men and women have flown in DC-3s than in any other plane—perhaps more than in all other planes combined.

It was "Old Doug," designed to fly peacefully passengers around the United States, that fed, fueled and provided ammunition for the American forces across the Rhine for weeks until bridges could be built. Some of the stories told about the DC-3 would be unbelievable if they were not confirmed. Its civilian version is a 21-passenger plane, which pilots took up with 2500 pounds of payload. Yet in it a Colonel Haynes flew 75 persons out of Burma in a pinch. Capt. Harold Sweet flew 61 major lines will soon replace their DC-3s too, mostly with 40-passenger, 340-mile-an-hour Convairs and Martin 202s.

United and TWA each have 79. Eastern has 51, Mid Continent 18. Braniff has 17, other lines smaller numbers. The Air Force has 500, the Navy another 300. Most of these probably will give way to progress—but not all. One who is keeping them is Eddie Rickenbacker, famous auto racer, World War I ace, and the hardest-boiled operator in the air transport field, where his Eastern Airlines has been the one big money-maker in a red-ink business.

Says Douglas: It would cost me $11,000,000 to develop a new short-haul plane. I couldn't possibly get that back before jets come in. Let the other boys take the business for a few years, if they can. I'll keep that $11,000,000 and use it when I can open up a permanent market in passenger jets.

Says Rickenbacker: New planes would cost me around $500,000 each. Long before they were paid for, passenger jets will be along. I'll keep those millions, and have jets on Eastern while the other boys are paying for these interim jobs.

The ace up Douglas' sleeve is his remodeling idea. He figures that a lot of concerns that can't afford $500,000 a plane for replacement—and a lot of the 3000 DC-3 owners abroad who can't get American dollars—can spend up to $200,000 for a machine almost as good as the Martin or the Convair.

So he has offered to revamp any DC-3 for around $200,000. He will increase passenger space from 21 to as many as 28, step up the speed from 180 to 234 miles an hour, install swept-back wings and new tail assembly, put loading stairs on the door and generally jazz up the whole job.

For every DC-3 thus re-built, the owner saves $300,000 under the cost of a replacement, plus about $29,000 extra per plane it would cost to train crew and ground men. And for the benefit of dollar-shy Europe, Douglas plans to do work over there, so that dollars will have to be used only for parts and overhead costs.

When he is done the Super-DC-3 will be smaller, slower, older than its post-war two-engine rivals. But with 20 passengers—a fair average for local runs—it will cost 2/3 of a cent less to carry each passenger a mile, and on a 350-mile hop it will be only 14 minutes slower than the new planes.

Franklin—Members of the Franklin American Legion, post 1089, have been busy for several days cleaning up the lot they purchased from the late W. C. Calhoun. Truck service has been donated and construction will begin in the near future.

One trip to the store—
One quick "bowl-mix"—
Gives me two pounds of Nucoa ready to use!

SAVE TIME—"BOWL-MIX" TWO POUNDS TOGETHER
(And save money—no extra cost tacked on for a "squeeze bag")

● "It's a waste of money," thousands of women tell us, "to pay two to three cents extra for margarine in a 'squeeze bag.'"

And money isn't the only saving! With Nucoa's easy "bowl-mix" you can save time and bother by coloring two pounds together, make it just the degree of yellow you like; mold it in balls, squares or other shapes to suit your taste.

"And it colors so much more evenly!" women say.

Millions agree! Ask your grocer for Nucoa—America's most popular margarine.

Of course,
George, and that drop's
good, too!

George and Gracie became partners in 1925 when they began a vaudeville tour of Europe. Gracie was supposed to be the stooge in the act but her Irish wit kept popping up. Today, George plays stooge to her comedy, which suits them both. Hear them Thursday night on NBC.

Principal industries today include the Rock Island Arsenal, the Farm-all tractor works of the International Harvester Company, a plant of J. I.
